This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.

+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.

+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.

+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. LONDON:

PRINTED BY COMPTON AND RITCHIE, MIDDLE STREET, CLOTH FAIR.

THE present Catalogue, without any pretensions to strict classification, will be found to contain, under the respective heads into which it is divided, works on those subjects which the Proprietor, in his business of bookselling, has found to be most the objects of inquiry at the present day. Some of the articles, owing to want of time for ascertaining the subject matter with more precision, are not, perhaps, under their proper heads; nevertheless it may be found useful to those who are seeking for books on a particular subject, and whose time is too much occupied otherwise to admit of their reading through the pages of a Catalogue in search of them. It is hoped, too, that this attempt at classification, limited as it is, will be well received, even by those who are in the habit of Catalogue perusing, since the breaks afford relief to the reader, by claiming stricter attention to the subject, or relaxing it, as the particular division is more or less to his taste.

The great cost of printing has necessarily led to an abridgment of the titles, and this, in many cases, to the destruction of the grammatical construction; but is is hoped, notwithstanding, that they will be sufficiently intelligible to communicate, in all cases, the subject matter of the book.

 This little volume is of extraordinary interest, from the circumstance of its containing two Prayers, which, according to a note in the volume, are the composition and in the hand-writing of Luther. The following is the note referred to: "Diese zwey nachfolgende Gebetlein hat H. D. Martin Luther seeselbst gemacht, und mit seiner aigenen Hand sicher geschreiben." i.e. "These two following short prayers hath Martin Luther himself made, and with his own hand written." The two prayers being written in a text hand, in imitation of German type, do not correspond with the writing of Luther contained in the celebrated copy of his Bible in the British Museum, which is in the common style of writing used by scholars in Germany at the time. If the testimony of the writer of the note in the present volume be correct, and it is certainly in a contemporaneous hand, Luther must have written the prayers in this character to render them perfectly clear and legible, possibly for the purpose of presenting the volume to some friend; and the beautiful binding of the book strengthens this conclusion.

 After having spoken so freely of Mr. Locke's divinity, which I once so highly esteemed, it seems but just to acknowledge the vast obligation which the whole religious world is under to that great man for his 'Letters concerning Toleration,' and his answers to those who wrote against them. The grounds of religious liberty, and the reasons why every one should be left to his own choice to worship God according to his conscience, were, perhaps, never generally understood since the foundation of the world; till by these publications Mr. Locke unanswerably made them manifest."—Scot of Sandford.

TRACTS AND PAMPHLETS.

To be Disposed of, in one Lot, a very extensive collection of Tracts and Pamphlets, estimated at THIRTY THOUSAND in number.

This Collection is the accumulation of upwards of Twenty Years from the various Public Sales, and from many Private Libraries which have been sold during that period, and includes a great number from the Library of the late RICHARD HEBER, Esq.

It consists chiefly of English Tracts (partly single, partly in volumes) in Theology and Religious Controversy; Botany and Medicine; Poetry, Criticism, and Miscellaneous Literature; British History and Politics, Parliamentary Affairs, Currency Question and Corn Laws; Biography, &c., published from the year 1600 to the present time.

The object of the Proprietor being to obtain the use of the room they occupy, and, at the same time, to preserve them from being destroyed, he offers the collection entire at £5 5s per thousand.
